THE ALDERMANIC ELECTION

The triat of Israel Lazarus, better known as Izzy Lazarus, and son of the late Izzy Lazarus, of widely extended pugilistic renown, was commenced yesterday morning, before Judge Barnard, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, on the charge of fraudment registration as a voter. The large court room was filled to its utmost capacity—a result, doubles, to be attributed to the fact, not of any special apathy for the prisoner, but a natural preliminary ciety on the part of many, on the eve of the ap. aching election, to know what measure of justice y be expected to be meted out to any of the and army of repeaters caught trying either the ge of prior multiplied registrations or the vote-y-and-often programme on election day. The bability is that not a few of the crowd—for there some rough-looking customers among them-ng to the gang of election repeaters. The presnew law regarding fraudulent registration. It be remembered that there were three indicts against the prisoner. General Barlow ap-ed on behalf of the Committee of Seventy, ed on behalf of the Committee of Soventy, go taking no active part in the trial. Mr. WilP. Howe, counsel for the prisoner, being unaably absent on account of sickness, the Court

Hr. SPRINGER said he should contest this view of the law before the close of the trial.

Thomas Membelly testified that he was an appointed insuccing; it e prisoner registered in his district; he had the original memorandums at his house.

The book he produced constained the names as copied by hisself from those memorandums.

Br. Frillowa mainted that the evidence was immaterial, and that the de fact registry, done in a regular manner, was milicious to establish the orime. This questlein was, perhaps, proper in the test of the validity of an election, but not in a new where a man had intended to commit, and had, in fact, so far as he could, committed serious, and thereupon proof was put in the intended the objection, and thereupon proof was put in the inspectors elected in the seventh and Yenth kington districts of the Zouth ward were not the new who had acted as inspectors.

Br. Brackett distinct that the Mayor had no right or power to thus disrement the will of the proper. It was, he strenged, a grave and serious question whether by this means could be changed the boundaries of election districts to over

Br. FELLOWS claimed that the Mayor had the power to SH vacascies, and having made the appointments, the presumption of law was that the Mayor had acted properly.

"By Jove ta splendid day, but a denced heavy track," said a Philadelphia swell at my elbow as we jogged along the Gray's ferry road this afternoon bound for Suffolk Park; and he was right. Never shone the sun more brightly, the day was in all reor yesterday, was very heavy. As we emerged in full view of the course it was apparent that the side and outside the course was crowded with inrerested and expectant spectators. Farmers' wagons, veritable one-horse shays, all the way from wagons, veritable one-horse shays, all the way from Chester; nobby nags, the property of Walnut street aristocrats, and hacks were mixed in one indefore we arrived, and the space inside the course and with sporting men, merchants and bankers. But few questionable character of either sex were present. dissionable character of ettner sex were present. A squad of police from the city were on hand, but their efforts to keep order were useless, especially after the second heat, when the crowd became so wild that policemen were of no avail. Yet the best humor prevailed throughout the day. A crowd of sporting men attempted to sell pools, and were progressing very favorably. numor prevailed throughout the day. A crowd of sporting men airempted to sell pools, and were progressing very favorably. A Herald reporter had just noticed the sale of first choice, Goldsmith Maid, when Budd Doble appeared on the scene and quietly remarked, "Gentlemen, this must be stopped forthwith. No one demurred. The pool seiler looked at Doble and seeing he meant what he said, came down from the chair he had mounted and sliently stole away.

Although the race was advertised to come of at three the first heat was not trotted until four P. M. First Heat.—A tap of the bell at the judges stand, a swaying backward of the crowd and the horses were divested of their blankets and wrappings, and both came before the judges' stand in the best condition. Up the track they went, and, turning, flew down the quarter, Goldsmith Maid having the pole, and they started on the first heat. At the word "go" Lucy scened to have the least advantage, but the Maid quickly overhunded her and passed about one length ahead and reached the quarter pole in thirty-five seconds, Lucy a half length behind. The distance die not vary for the next quarter of a mine, the Maid reaching the half-mile pole in 1:0 and the three-quarter pole in 1:48. On the homestreth Lucy made a desperate effort to overtake the Maid, who never once ceased her speed, but kept steadily at her work and came in anead, winning the heat in 2:23 %.

Second Heal.—After one therfoctual cfort the pair got the word "Go," and started beautifully. Although not the fastest time, this heat was the finest of the race. The Maid dashed ahead immediately after leaving the judges' stand and reached the Quarter pole in thirty-four and a half seconds. Having passed the pole she broke, but was quickly brought to her feet by Doble's excellent management, and rapidly widened the gap between nerself and Lucy. The half mile was reached in 1:00, without any perceptible difference in the relative distances between the two figures, the Maid trotting squarely and splendid great half and wonli

Lambert the Winner.
The second day of the autumn meeting was a satisfactory one both to the managers and the spectators. A good trot came off between seven horses, and four hears were trotted. The race was for a purse of $1,000, for horses that had never beaten 2:32; $500 to the first, $300 to the second and $200 to the third horse, The entries were:—James Dugrey's bay mare Fanny Lambert, George T. Free-Dugrey's bay mare Fanny Lambert, George T. Free-man's black mare Lady Wheeler, John S. Park's orown stallion Dauntiess, John Murphy's bay mare Lady Sears, W. E. Week's black gelding Eight Belis, Peter Manee's gray gelding St. Elmo, J. Splan's brown mare Constance, M. Roden's gray mare Heatherbloom and A. Patterson's chestnut mare Belis of Oneida. The last two did not start, Heatherbloom not making her appearance on the track, while Belle of Unetda would not trot when taken there, and after delaying the sport for nearly an hour the junges told Mr. Patterson to wilhdraw her, and then they started the others without her.

Dauntless was the favorite before the start at long odds, Constance, Belle of Onelda and Family Lam-bert selling singly at nominal rates, while the others were sold as a field. This bunching together of a lot of horses and selling them as a field while two or three are sold separately is not fair, as we think or three are sold separately is not fair, as we think the pool-selier should dispose of every horse in the race, which will give buyers a opportunity of purchasing the horse they fancied without being compelled to pay for and take those that they do not want. The system we suggest will, probably, not be so profitable to the pool seliers, as the fielding process, but it will be more satisfactory to the public, and last longer.

GOLD DULL—112 a 112%.

The arrival of the two Liverpool steamers on Wednesday night raised the siege in the Gold Room, and that apartment relapsed to-day into its wonted duiness. It is true the relief has not been material so far, but the moral effect was just as potent as the presence of the foreign coupons—the equivalent of coin. The hundreds of small dealers who were speculating in the loan market were caught with rowed gold, which they were only too ready to lend this atternoon for the currency equivalent.
The Treasury gold sale also helped the relaxation; for a real million goes a great way and serves often lions. The amount of coupons brought over is not known definitely as yet, for the reason that the consignees have not been able to get their schedules fully prepared, while a large proportion will be held for exchange into government bonds if the rates of foreign exchange favor the investment. The course of the market is shown in

The government list, as usual after interest day, was strong on the reinvestment of coupons, and prices improved about 3/ per cent—a large advance in one day for this department of Wall street. The '67's were quite scarce for to-day's deliveries, and a "corner" was made by parties operating for a rise. The bonds leaned "flat," aung for a rise. The business, however, was still restricted to the execution of clique orders, and the rise was regarded with indifference. During the day it transpired that the Pittsburg Railroad had been leased in perpetuity to the Pennsylvania Railroad at the rate of ten per cent upon its present capital stock. The fact of a lease was made known in the shape of a pre-ample to proxies circulated by a leading brokerage firm asking endorsement of their proposition to make the capital stock ten millions and receive therenpon seven per cent guaranteed laterest, in-stead of ten per cent on seven millions. The proamble at the head of these proxies reads as fol-

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT.

Kining Jurers.

Fining Jurers.

Yesterday Judge Benedict resumed the trial of criminal cases in the United States Circuit Court. David Sloan and Kingman F. Page were fined S10 each for failing to appear when their names were called on the jury panel. When their names were called on the jury panel, Five Indictments Against fillings, the Allead Counterfeiter.

J. D. Minor, who has been accused of having had counterfelt money, and counterfelt plates for the printing of the same, in his possession was called upon to plead to five indictments on these charges. He pleaded not guilty and was remanded for trial. It is understood that a motion for the postponement of the trial will be made by counsel for the defendent, and there is hardly a probability that the case will be disposed of during the present term of the Court.

Trials a ostponed.

Thomas Ballard and Llewellyn S. Williams, also indicted for counterfesting, pleaded not guilty. Trials postponed.

Thomas Ballard and Llewellyn S. Williams, also indicted for counterfeiting, pleaded not guilty.

James Quimby pleaded guilty is an indictment enarging him with counterfeiting. He was remanded for senience.

Beenling in Counterfeit James!

The Court reaused the trial of Ernset Kop, who was indicted for counterfeiting. The facts of the case, as presented to the Court and jury, dia not differ much from the facts sworn to in the trial of Jackson alsa Messenger, reported in the HERALD of yesterday. The only witness for the government where testimony at all went to criminate the prisoner was that of a secret-service detective named Bauer. This man went among a "set" supposed to be counterfeiters and held himself out to be one of that lik for the purpose of gaining their confidence, the result of which was that the prisoner, as alleged, was brought up on a charge of passing a bogus bill over to Enser, who marked if or the purpose of identifying it, and soon after caused the arrest of the unsuspecting victim. Sentence of the jury, stating a very akhiful and ingulous address to the jury, stating as very akhiful and ingulous address to the jury, stating that if they convicte the prisoner their verdict would consign him to give no for fitten years; that if has a case of morter they would consign him to state to direct the jury to receive with caution the without to state to direct the jury to receive with caution the without of Bauer, unsupported as it was by other evidence.

Mr. Frant States of Bauer, unsupported as it was by other evidence. duty of the jury to consider what the result of their verdict might be.
Judge BREEDICT charged the jury as requested by defendant's counset, adding that if they had any wall focused doubt of the fruith of Sauer's testimony they were bound to give the benefit of it to the prisoner.
The jury after a short consultation, found the prisoner guilty, and he was remainded for sentence.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONERS' COURT.

Enforce Commissioner Shields,
The United States or Charles B. Brocket.—The defendant, who resides at 111 Seventh avenue, was held to built by the Commissioner for examination on a charge of having drawn illiquor from barrels on which proper revenue stamps had not been adjaced. Alleged Violation of the Revenue Law.

The Foley Injunction Once More In the Foley injunction case application was made yester-day for settlement of the modified order. Mr. Strahan said that he wished to be heard on behalf of Mr. Green, Deputy Comptroling, although the laster was not strictly a party to the suit. The Court sait it would hear him on the subject as half-past ten o'clock this morning.
